What to Expect:

- Hear from community partners and sector leaders, including healthcare and treatment providers, public health professionals, non-profit organizations, media specialists, and youth advocacy efforts.
- Learn from community members who share their lived experiences.
- Discover the innovation and best practices taking place across Marin to prevent overdose.
- Access valuable resources available to support yourself, loved ones, and our broader community.
- Find opportunities to engage with our coalition to make a difference.

Together, we are working to prevent overdose and improve the health and wellbeing of our entire community.
